

What should I avoid writing or sending?

Written by Rose

Thursday, 17 June 2010 12:28 - Last Updated Thursday, 17 June 2010 12:30

As a sponsor, you have many opportunities to communicate with the child you sponsor and we encourage you to do so. When you communicate with him or her, however, we ask you to provide comments and materials consistent with the Christian values and philosophies. We will not forward photographs and materials promoting what is contrary to biblically based lifestyles, communications that advocate another religious worldview and other activities that are generally regarded as inappropriate for children.